Marathon

I'm up at 4:00 A.M. I have so many things rattling around in my brain that I am awake and disturbing Mort. So I came up to write notes and get my anxiety in check. I pray that we get this insurance taken care of well and in time to actually leave for ~~to~~ the Bahamas the first week in May.

Today we decided to fly to see Anthony Michael for the first time on March 17th and return on the 21st

We had Cocktails on the pier and met a man named Dick Myers from a huge Shuckers (4 years old) called Clam Digger. He is from the Eastern Shore of Virginia. We enjoyed our conversation with him very much.

Highlights February 17th to February 28th Marathon

2/17/93 Cleaned floors, walls, etc. getting ready for Jim & Carol.
My knee is much improved.

Mort is struggling with his Badger brushes and Varnish.

2/18/93 Went to Ham class after a very busy workday.
We are not progressing with Code as well as we'd like

2/19/93 Got the last minute sprucing up finished before Jim & Carol arrive on Sunday.

Saturday 2/20/93

Food shopped for J & C's visit. We can't wait. Got a call around 3:00 P.M. that they made good time and would be here in time for dinner today. We are thrilled. I'm making stuffed Quail for dinner.

Sunday 2/21/93 Enjoying Carol & Jim. They look exhausted. 4:30 P.M. is a pig roast on the lawn. Lots of food and fun (Kean is a horses ass. He got his back up because the folks on the pier took up a collection to help pay for the pig.)

2/22/93 Took boat ride in Whaler with the Oranges and talked and laughed and talked. Went to ~~Grassy~~ Chinese

2/23/93 Talked and talked and sunned and talked and talked and went to Quay for dinner.

2/24/93 Went to Key West for the day. Had lunch at the Paganalle. We also got wash off tattoos. Carol was a scream. She was so excited about them.

2/25/93 Laid around and you guessed it, we talked some more.

2/26/93 Jim & Carol left early this am looking rested and well.

2/27/93 I Cleaned up from guests and Mort Varnished

2/28/93 We went to flea market at Big Pine and relaxed all day.

Monday 3/1/93

Marathon

Packed today for going to Bobbie. Mort Varnished. We had cocktails on pier and went to Anthony's for dinner. We had our usual, Salad for both, and Mort had Mussels on a little linguine and I had Calamari with hot sauce.

Lauderdale, Light House Pt.

Left Marathon by 8:00 A.M. Made many stops in Lauderdale and White Housepoint, etc. Saw Dr. Sherman at 2:00 P.M. He checked us over for skin cancers. Said we were fine, but removed an ugly growth from Mort's chest.

Went to Bobbie's for night. We all had dinner at Pelicans. Bob had fried shrimp and Mort & I had Yummy 2 lb. lobsters. We played 2 games of Rummy tiles then crashed. (Mort bought me a "buttery" pair of Sabagos today.)

Back to Marathon

We went to Pep Boy to buy cover for car. (We have already arranged its storage at Schmids in Big Pine) Then we went to Costco, filled the car with provisions for the trip to the Bahamas, and returned to Marathon in time for us to have cocktails on the pier, and for me to make Shrimp Zambucca and Pecan rice. Delicious!

Marathon

Today we'll stow our haul and study Code. Tonight is HAM class. I'll make a salad and heat up an Eggplant Parmesan we bought at Anthony's. We decided to postpone HAM. We have had too many interruptions.

Friday, March 5th, 1993

Marathon

We are really in the swing of pre-trip preparation. The engine, thank the good Lord, is starting on cue. Mort found the problem and corrected it. As soon as we return from Ellen & Mark's, we will have the Generator man out. But for now we have two engines that seem to purr. Corned Beef will be for dinner.

Saturday, March 6, 1993

Marathon

We went to two flea markets this a.m. - I bought nothing - then went to Woolley's to buy fresh Catfish for dinner. Mort did some varnish, I did the usual. We went on a Dolphin hunt late afternoon. No luck. Had trouble with ^{whaler} eng. starter.

Sunday, March 7, 1993

Marathon

Sunday or not, I scrubbed floors, etc. Mort did varnish and fixed the whaler's engine's starter. I also made a Tebulek for dinner which we had with luscious lamb chops.

Monday, March 8, 1993

Marathon

Today we hope to wash the boat. A real workout which we both need. I hope it is warm enough to do it. We don't want a chill since the Flu is going around.

Highlights

3-9-93 Tuesday to Wednesday 3-24-93

3-9-93 The Usual.

3-10-93 Jack from Dolly Marine came and in 2 minutes fixed the Generator.

3-11-93 Today is HAM class, but we have decided to give up for the moment.

3-13-93 Went to have hair color. Carla was busy so Iwonne did it. She didn't get the proper color.

We had a terrible storm - Gale - come through. Winds clocked at 90+ miles at Coast Guard Station.

I was terrified of the Tornadoes that were predicted. Fortunately we got none.

3-15-93 Canceled Eterminator 'cause beds got wet from the driven rain. Cabin all torn up.

3-16-93 Packed for Ellen & Mark's.

3-17-93 Flew to Kids. They all looked great. The baby is a knockout!

Had a super visit!!

3-21-93 Flew home to Marathon. Had a delay in Miami. Arrived home after midnight and found all well on board.

It's great to be back.

3-22-93 Unpacked & recouped.

3-23-93 Today I am really wooofed. So is Mort.

It all is catching up with us. Went to Banana Cabana for dinner. Had Filet & Half stuffed lobster. Great.

3-24-93 Cleared forward compartments in preparation for the Carby families. Paula, Tom and the girls should be here in time for dinner on Friday. Tonight I'm making Cornish Hen, rice & Spinach
