Marathon

Robbie + Joe helped us off load the truck + car and were gone by 11:00 A.M.

We had almost everything stowed by 4:00 P.M. We are pooped, but we are getting closer. I have only 3 or 4 more trips to Wooley and I'm done.

Marathon

While I had my hair colored, Pat + Mat finished putting the New Injector pump in. Mort's not sure this will solve our problem.

April 27, 1993 Tuesday

Marathon

Not a great day. Alex had to be taken to the Hospital for dehydration due to a Roto virus. He had to be put on intravenous fluids. Poor Baby. Poor Ellie + Mark.

April 28, 1993 Wednesday

Marathon

Today Glennis has a tube put in her ear as an outpatient. Alex is doing better.

April 29, 1993 Thursday

Marathon

Greg cancelled today. He was supposed to do our bottom. "Harley" the beached Risso Dolphin they have had at Skadden Harbour, has taken a turn for the worse, and he has a 12 hour shift.

Friday, April 30, 1993

Marathon

Harley the Dolphin passed on today. Greg delayed due to Leeropsyon Harley. He, Greg, arrived at 3:45 P.M. worked on bottom until 6:15 P.M. He will come back Monday to put on zivis.

May 1, 1993 Saturday

Marathon

We're chugging! Vacuum sealing etc.

Sunday, May 2, 1993

Marathon

Jean Ford brought last of my Walgreen order. She is a doll. She gave us her discount.

Monday, May 3, 1993

Marathon

Greg (from Dolphin Research Center) came today to put zivis on and wash bottom of Whaler.
Louis men came today with more Batteries.

Tuesday, May 4, 1993

Marathon

Big day today. First we got Whaler up with help from Terry & Linda Palmer on Caduce and Bob Lent (who was more hindrance than help) and Dawn & Bill of Jubilee. We had to pull the boat out and of course the wind blew like stink. We also got our green tomatoes and our shallots.
A big day, but more big jobs completed.

Wednesday, May 5, 1993

Marathon

Did last non-perishable food order. Mort stowing his items, spiffing engine room.

Thursday, May 6, 1993

Marathon

Work. Work + more work. Just we're making closer. Mort has begun to ~~lose~~ weigh. I, on the other hand, am stuck. I'm eating less, but nothing much seems to happen. Elenore & Dan called and invited us to cocktails & Bar-B-Que. Dave Rigal and his new wife were there. She seem very nice her name is Sharon. They have been married three months and just met last February.

Marathon

I'm puffy! Today will be no lunch. I did last of Vacuum Sealing, phew!!! We went to dinner at Anthony's with Laurel & Dave. They are leaving in the A.M. for Seattle so we took their leftovers home. Mort is exhausted he's overworking.

Saturday, May 8, 1993

Marathon

Today I Rain-xed the Bow windows. Mort is getting all ready for the sea trial of the Injector Pump. We are getting closer. I have every non-pensable vacuum sealed + stowed. Mort is concerned that when we put on fuel the water line will disappear.

Sunday, May 9th 1993

Marathon

Mort did charts. The kids called me for Mother's Day. I did the perishable food order. (Last large order before leaving)

Chugged!

Marathon

Tuesday, May 11, 1993

Marathon

Sea trial of the injector pump. Picked up Pat 11:00. Took off 11:15. Did trial, tied up at Pinellas' at 12:25. Put on 550 gal. @ 81¢, went to start port engine, had trouble starting. Maybe we spent $600 for nothing. Vgh!! We had lunch at 3:15. Most things ran well on sea trial. Pat is coming in a.m. re: Port Engine. Pat says shaft is turning.

Wednesday, May 12, 1993

Marathon

Pat came with Jack from Dolly Marie. Jack says we need new hand pump valve.

Thursday, May 13, 1993

Marathon

Jack brought valve, put on, still having problem. Jack suggested we make shorter cables from battery to starter. Says very slow cranking. Mort bought new cables and switches. On installing first switch Mort put a hole in our new 8D battery (He almost cried. Said it was the - - - - - thing he ever did.) We neutralized the acid with baking soda & water. Cleared up. Mort plugged the battery with epoxy. <sup>Louis got more acid in</sup> Then went to work on Jenny. We need new celleroid in Jenny. Louis of Air rebuilt it in an hour for us. A doll.

Friday, May 14, 1993

Marathon

Jack came to put new celleroid on Jenny. We connected new cables & switches. Both engines turned over like tops. Mort ran pencil around shaft as it ran. Shaft not turning.

Saturday, May 15, 1993

Marathon

Mort took car to storage, I rain-tiled windows. We are all ready to go. We'll check the weather in the A.M.
