Marathon

We're exhausted. Mort has a serious infection and is ~~a~~ raging bear today. Started him on Vibramycin today.

Late this afternoon Claudia of the Women's Shelter came to pick up furniture (Loveseat & Sofa). She said it would have to be late because the friend with the truck was a school teacher. Who does it turn out to be but Cary of Inhabitable Mary's.

Linda & Jim came over for cocktails & to help. I'm still hanging wash even though power back to full tilt.

I barbequed Cornish Hens for dinner with a salad. A tough day! I couldn't please Mort so I stopped trying.

Marathon

Early A.M. ~~Jim & Linda came over to help~~ Mort lifted carpet and cut hatch opening in gadding. Linda from Jeffy Service came to pick up the old carpet. We are donating it to the "Homestead relief." They were very grateful.

Pulling of the carpet triggered a major Asthma attack for Mort. He went on Cortisone with Dinner.

Things worked pretty well otherwise today. I Bar-B-Queed ribs for dinner tonight and we had a big salad too. Delicious

Marathon *4

Today is our 37th wedding Anniversary. Wow!

The new washer & dryer are to be delivered at 10:30^{A.M.} today. At 10:00 Jim & Linda came over to help, and when it arrived - exactly on time - Stan & Kean came down to help also.

The four men lifted the hatch - jockeyed out the old washer & dryer and hoisted in and down the new unit.

By 4:30 Mort had it all installed and I began a test wash. Not only were we too tired to go out for our Anniversary, but we were waiting in hopes the carpet man would come late this day to install the new carpet before the furniture comes tomorrow A.M. He didn't show. Tomorrow should be interesting.

Dinner was Loaf, Bagels, Cauli, Cream Cheese, Tomatoes and Vidalia Onions' Hummus. but we are waafed.

Marathon *

We are not sleeping well, Mort is on Cortisone. But He is feeling much better otherwise. At 8:30 A.M. the new furniture was delivered. The delivery men were starry eyed from delivering to a boat. I gave them a quick tour while Mort wrote the checks. They were nonplussed. It was a kick to let them see it.

The carpet fella, Jeff, came at 10:00 and of course it threatens rain. We cover the new sofa and loveseat with plastic put them out on the aft deck and prayed that they would not get wet. The furniture over, the carpet was installed and the furniture back inside just minutes before it began to rain.

The furniture is gorgeous. The carpet is pretty, but not as cushy as the last carpets we had. But if we are going to have to replace them every 5 years or so it doesn't pay to put the most expensive stuff in.

Tonight we went to the Quay to celebrate our Anniversary and the finish of the Salon job. (Almost finished that is. Monday I take the built in cushions to Rip Off to be reupholstered.) That had good Veal, I had Frog legs. We saw Sailor Dan (He had a stroke and doesn't look good.)

Marathon

We are very tired. Today is a rest day. We read the Sunday papers, magazines, catalogs, I did some wash to catch up, Mot paid some bills we took a short boat ride after lunch and then we took a nap. I usually nap 5 to 10 minutes and feel refreshed. Today I slept an hour + half. We'll do Kentucky Fried Chicken for dinner tonight. And the Eagles are supposed to play.

Actually we had Pizza delivered and watched the Eagles win.

Very nice evening!

Marathon

Had an appointment to take "built in" cushions to Rip Off to have them recovered with the material we bought in High Point, N.C.

Then I hit the cleaners, Woolly's and Eckert.

I have a bad knee. It's swollen and sore. Don't know what I did to it but I've been on Advil for two days. Must have twisted it or something with the reugs or furniture in and out.

I'm trying to stay off of it. Impossible.

Tonight dinner is Turkey legs and carrots w/beans.

A good Day.

Tonight is Yartsnet for Mom.

Marathon

Today I scrubbed the Galley and Pilot house floors. Then I finished sewing the bedspread that was put on hold by "Andrew" and the trip to Lubbock.

It came out beautifully. I also hung the matching curtains in the master stateroom; with Mort's help. (I still can't put any pressure on my right knee. The swelling is down some though.)

Not took us for dinner at Anthony's. A break for me 'cause today was very hard work.

A very good & productive day.

Marathon

* see below

Today I scrubbed every inch of our stateroom; walls, ports, cabinetry, floors. I then put down the new throw rugs that match the new bedspread and curtains. The room looks wonderful. Greens really go best with the teak. What a job!

After lunch - and a short rest - we went to Radio Shack to buy a new remote phone (the old one died) on sale and a new clock for our bedroom. Then we stopped at the Jatis shop to order new shade for our stateroom aft, as well as new non skid mats.

At 5:00 Pat of Rig Off, brought the recovered cushions. She did a nice job. The Salon looks gorgeous! So does the Galley and our stateroom.

We are considering having the floors in the pilot house and galley re-done.

Tonight we had the Tebuleh I made this afternoon and a steak. Yum. The Tebuleh was great. I could have done without the steak.

* I almost forgot - How could I? The first thing we did today was to keep an appointment with Ken at Fishermans' Hospital to have blood drawn for the study on Ciguatera poisoning being done by Hawaii Clektest and Dr. Parks of University of Oregon. Ken is seeing to the freezing and packaging of the blood from both Mot & I. All for a $15.00 each "blood drawing fee". We will see to the shipping by Fed X, tomorrow afternoon.
